LOVE'S SEASONS AND REASONS. I love my love in spring time,

For beauty fresh as May, For cheeks like early roses, For eyes as bright as day; For breath like balm of lillies For smiles like sunrise clear; I love my love in spring time,

And love her all the year. I love my love in summer, For promise warm and true, For truth like noonday throwing A light on old and new; For wealth of bloom and freshness, And shady comfort near;

Hove my love in summer, And love her all the year. I love my love in autumn, For fruit of gentle deeds, For wisdom to be garnered To serve our future needs ; For virtues ripening ever, Like harvests full in ear. I love my love in autumn,

And love her all the year.

I love my love in winter, For charities untold, For warmth of household welcome, For looks that thaw the cold; For harmless mirth and pastime, As rich as Christmas cheer : I love my love in winter,

Robinson Crusoe: "I went to work upon this boat more like a fool than ever man did who had any of his senses awake. I pleased myself with the design without determining whether I was ever able to undertake; not but that the difficulty of launching my boat came frequently into my head; but I put a stop to my inquiries about it by this foolish answer which I gave myself: "Let me but make it, and I'll warrant I'll find some way or other to get it along when it is done." This was a most preposterous method, but the eagerness of my fancy prevailed, and to work I went. I felled a cedar tree; and I question much whether Solomon ever had such a one for the building of the temple of Jerusalem. I was twenty days backing and hewing it at the bottom. I was fourteen more getting the branches and limbs and the vast spreading head of it cut off, which I hacked and hewed through with axe same, and I pledge myself to spare no pains to give satisfaction. All GOODS warranted to be this it cost me a month to shape it. It cost me three months more to clear the inside.-When I had gone through this work, I was extremely delighted with it.
